and Title IX Coordinator
Waldorf University
106 South 6th Street
Forest City, IA 50436

Dear Mr. Harris:

We have received the Application for Exemption from Alabama Programmatic Review for Waldorf University with documentation that the institution is a member of NC-SARA and is accredited by the Higher Learning Commission. Accordingly, this is to confirm that Waldorf University is exempt from Alabama Programmatic Review as long as it qualifies for this exemption. No fee is payable to the Alabama Commission on Higher Education (ACHE) for exemption from programmatic review.

Please note, however, that it is still necessary for Waldorf University to obtain state approval to offer/enroll Alabama residents in online courses/programs through the Department of Licensure at the Alabama Community College System (ACCS), the process and any fees for which can be found at <https://www.accs.edu/index.cfm/school-licensure/>.

Please let us know if you have questions or wish to have other information regarding ACHE policies for non-resident institutions.

Sincerely,
