Composition

Write a composition (at least two pages long) describing your experience as an RA/SRA. Your composition should address all aspects of the RA/SRA responsibilities including the level of maturity you exhibited in exercising sound judgment, emotional stability, programming, willingness to accept responsibility, addressing disciplinary issues and how you used your interpersonal skills and understanding and appreciation of diversity to build community on your floor.

interview, and one of the remaining two options below.

Portfolio

Prepare a comprehensive portfolio detailing your experience as a residence life staff member. Include such things as sample door decorations you used, advertisements and descriptions of programs you hosted, photographs from events or everyday life on your floor, and/or any other materials that you think best portray the work you have done as an RA/SRA.

Personal Interview

Schedule an interview with Residence Life. In your interview you will be asked various questions, including questions about your accomplishments as a staff member and your plans if you are rehired.

Your References:

Please list two references (names and contact information). One must be a current staff member from your building and the other a current resident on your floor. Remember to print copies of the reference form and give them to each of your references.
